FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

BILLINGS – Following the Rocky Mountain College Battlin' Bears football game Saturday, September 24, 2011, the RMC Athletic Department will host BBQ in the Bowl, a "family friendly event, where kids under 10 years old eat free," according to Robert Beers, RMC athletic director.

"There will be inflatable bouncy toys for the kids, and we're hoping it will be a fun family time after the game," said Kristin Mullaney, RMC director of alumni and parent relations. "It's supposed to be a beautiful fall day and what could be more fun than football and a BBQ."

The BBQ will begin at 4:00 p.m. The cost for the BBQ is $20 for adults, $15 for students. Beer and wine will be available for adults.

The Battlin' Bears will play Montana State University Northern at 1:00 p.m. at Herb Klindt Field.

The BBQ in the Bowl is one event for Parents Weekend. The complete schedule follows:
