FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

BILLINGS -- The Rocky Mountain College equestrian program will be hosting its annual Winter Drill, beginning at 1 p.m., Thursday, Dec. 4, 2008, at the Intermountain Equestrian Center.

This is a fun family-event, according to Scott Neuman, RMC equestrian program director.

“We’ll have pony rides, cookies and hot beverages,” he said.

The RMC Equestrian Open House will be held in conjunction with the themed drills. Facility tours and faculty open discussion groups highlight the event.

All are welcome and admission is free.

For more information, contact Scott Neuman, RMC equestrian program director, 245-3602.
