FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

BILLINGS – Rocky Mountain College President Michael Mace announced today that former Billings Catholic Schools Foundation Executive Director Vicki Davison has been named the new RMC Annual Fund Director.

“We feel fortunate to find someone with the experience and energy that are essential for this position. Vicki will be an important member of our development team,” Mace said.

Davison has a long and successful history working with public service organizations and in fund raising. She helped form the Billings Catholic Schools Foundation from the Billings Area Catholic Education Trust (BACET), serving as executive director of BSC from 2005 until 2008. She helped train and supervise staff for all the major fundraising events, from the Mayfair Auction to the BACET Endowment and the annual giving campaigns.

She was a board member from 2003-2005 for the Billings National Alliance for the Mentally Ill, was Mayfair Auction director from 1998-2003, and assistant to the executive director for the Montana Associated Physicians, Inc. from 1992-1995.

She is a member of Downtown Billings Rotary and a board member of the Association of Fund Raising Professionals.

Davison has a bachelor of arts degree from Montana State University – Billings.
