FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

Rocky Mountain College students who are recipients of scholarships through the college’s Services for Academic Success (SAS) program were honored at the annual TRIO Day reception February 20, 2013.

TRIO is a series of federally funded programs designed to help first generation, low-income or disabled students succeed in college. SAS represents TRiO, serving 250 students this year.

Guest speaker was RMC President Bob Wilmouth, M.D., F.A.C.S., who talked about the importance of the program to RMC, where 53 percent of its 1,007 students come from Montana.

“Many are first-generation students who need that boost of support to stay the course and graduate as productive citizens ready to be leaders in their careers and their communities,” he said.

A total of 66 students were recipients of TRIO scholarships this year. They include:
