“STUDY IN ITALY” OPENS AT RMC’S RYNIKER-MORRISON MARCH 14

For more information: Sally McIntosh, Rocky Mountain College Ryniker-Morrison Gallery director, sally.mcintosh@rocky.edu / (406) 259-6563.

Attached photography by Mark S. Moak, Professor of Art and Art History, Department of Art. Rocky Mountain College students at the Pantheon in Rome, a Roman temple constructed in 126 AD, fall semester of 2012.

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

BILLINGS -- The Ryniker-Morrison Gallery in Tech Hall on the campus of Rocky Mountain College will host the "Study in Italy" Exhibit from March 14-25, 2013.

The public is cordially invited to attend the opening reception on Thursday, March 14 from 4 – 6 p.m. The exhibit will feature work that was completed during the semester abroad program and work that was influenced by the time spent in Italy by the students in attendance.

The semester long study abroad program offers students opportunities to study painting, drawing, ceramics, art history, and printmaking classes at the Villa Pieve near Perugia, Italy along with Italian language, music and cultural studies.

Students also travel to other locations in Italy ie., Rome and Florence, to get first hand experiences of the rich artistic and cultural life in those ancient cities.

The Ryniker-Morrison Gallery is located in Tech Hall on the campus of Rocky Mountain College. Gallery hours are M-F, 9 a.m. – 4 p.m.

For more information: Sally McIntosh, Rocky Mountain College Ryniker-Morrison Gallery director, sally.mcintosh@rocky.edu / (406) 259-6563.

#    #

3/02/2013