New Suggestions for Helping Students

Students should try to structure their time around their original class schedule. ASRMC could come up with a list of tips like this for helping students with online classes, although it might be difficult to come up with universal tips. Working through the RMC Involvement Network page would likely be a better idea than a mass email for distributing tips. Adding an article about time management and online classes in The Summit would also be a good idea.

How Can or Should ASRMC Help Clubs at this Time?

A lot of clubs can't or aren't meeting right now, and they shouldn't be meeting in person. ASRMC can still answer questions at this time. It would be a good idea to request that clubs focus on next year, and remind clubs that they will be needing to recharter in the fall.

Questions and Concerns Regarding Fall 2020 and ASRMC

Several students will be leaving the senate in the fall. Elections are postponed until the fall. It would be nice to at least have a stand-in president until elections, but this may not be possible. We should plan projects for the fall, which will be discussed in more detail next meeting. Committees should come up with some ideas for fall as well. Some sort of event or activity at the beginning of the semester to introduce ASRMC would be good.
