Dear Colleagues,

I trust you and your loved ones are safe and well.

For today I just wanted to report on a couple matters:

ASRMC met yesterday and was able to provide some feedback and some general comments:

1. They are overwhelmingly thankful for the work of the College and their instructors in this challenging time. That being said...
2. They would like faculty who might not have done so to provide clarity on expectations and revised schedules or syllabi.
3. They were hoping that faculty might be able to provide an updated grade check if requested;
4. They asked if more faculty might not be able to provide virtual office hours—a set time when faculty might be called or be responsive to texts or emails.

On another matter, offices like students records or the business office would prefer if at all possible to reduce or eliminate face to face meetings. Please call then whenever possible to handle necessary business. The library will also be greatly reducing face to face meetings. An update will come shortly from Bobbi Otte on this.

Thank you all for everything. Stay well...

Steve
